

MD – Neurology

Received his medical degree from Jefferson Medical College and completed his residency in neurology at the University of Michigan. He received a Clinical Neurophysiology Fellowship at University of California, Los Angeles and is board certified by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology with added qualifications in Clinical Neurophysiology, the American Board of Clinical Neurophysiology with special qualification in Epilepsy Surgery Monitoring. He is currently an assistant professor at UCLA's Department of Neurology, Director of UCLA/Olive View Epilepsy Program and VNS Program and acts as Co-Director of UCLA/Olive View Neurophysiology Laboratory.

He has given several talks, lectures and written several book chapters about epilepsy. He has been awarded several grants for his research, including studies on the neurodynamics of epilepsy, the localization of seizure onset through nonlinear analysis of EEG,